About the California Bar Foundation Public Interest Legal Fellowship Program:

Launched in 2015, the California Bar Foundation's Legal Fellowship Program supports diverse rising 3Ls and recent law graduates who are committed to representing low-income and underserved populations in California. We fund leading California legal aid agencies that are committed to building diverse, inclusive staff environments to receive a summer or yearlong legal fellow.

Through this fellowship program, along with diversity scholarships and grants, the California Bar Foundation is catalyzing diversity, equity, and inclusion in the legal profession and, by extension, the justice system as a whole. For more information about the fellowship program, please contact Sheila Bapat at sheilab@calbarfoundation.org.
